Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) Responsive to communication(s) filed on _____.
- 2a) This action is FINAL.                    2b) This action is non-final.
- 3) Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

Disposition of Claims

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Regarding claim 1, the limitation of “in order to prevent said first arm elements from moving from said first coil-forming position to said second coil-removal position until said second arm elements are in said first coil-forming position” are inconsistent with the disclosure of the operation of the device. It is disclosed (figure 1) that the first arm element can be moved to a second coil removal position only when the second arm element is in the second position thereby disengaging surfaces 40 and 41 from each other, however the claim requires the opposite (the second arm to be in a first position in order for the first arm to be able to move to a second position).

Regarding claim 7, it is not clear what is meant by “a front wall mobile parallel”.

Regarding claim 16, there is no antecedent basis for “said second actuation means”.

Regarding claim 17, there is no antecedent basis for “said rack means or said endless screw means”.

The remainder of the office action considers the claims as best understood.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-25, 27-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Beckwith '653. Beckwith discloses a coiling device containing all of the claimed elements including a mandrel comprising a flange 56, a first arm 58, a second/containing arms 64 such that the second arm pivots between a first and second positions about pin 66 and in turn causes arm 58 to be mobile between a first and second position (figure 2). A preventing means as required by claim 1 is read onto the portion of member 64 which contacts pin 63 whereby member 58 can only be repositioned if member 4 is adjusted to a second position as shown in figure 2 due to the contact portion about pin 63. Member 56 is movable axially thru shaft 16 and associated gearing as required by claim 7. Lacking any clear distinguishing features a deposition ring as required by claim 8 is read onto portion of member 42 and 58 which ring pin 60. A cylindrical central body as required by claim 10 is read onto member 34. Limitations of claims 11 and 12 are read onto members 62, 74 and 68. Limitations of claim 13 are read onto member 42b. For purposes of claim 14, control means are read onto elements 74, 62 and associated gearing. For purposes of claims 15 and 16, a second actuation means is read onto members 40 and 44. Rod means of claims 17-20 are read onto member 70 whose rotary functions are noted at col. 3, lines 8-9.

Conclusion

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Dmitry Suhol whose telephone number is 571-272-4430. The examiner can normally be reached on Mon - Friday 8:30am-5:00pm.

If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Derris Banks can be reached on (571) 272-4419. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-273-8300.
